Librarian,
James Jerome Hill Reference Library,
Saint Paul, Minn.

Dear Madam:

Your letter to the American Numismatic Association has been turned over to me for reply.

I have never written a book on 'cents',
and can not imagine where you got this information.
Can you give me any further details that I may be able to clear up this matter?

Very truly yours,

Curator

Mr. Howland Wood, Curator,
The American Numismatic Society,
Broadway between 155th and 156th Streets,
New York City

Dear Sir:

I thank you for your kind letter of February 15. I am afraid it is just a matter of misinformation. We were asked for the book "Wood on Cents" and advised that we could obtain information regarding its publication by writing to the American Numismatic Association.

I should be very grateful to have your recommendations as to the best books to buy covering coinage of the world and coinage of the United States. A stamped addressed envelope is inclosed for reply.

Thanking you for your courtesy in the matter, I am

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir:

Your letter of the 17th to Mr. Wood has been referred to me.

For the early United States coins, Crosby's
'Early Coins of America' is unsurpassed. For Greek coins, Head's 'Historia Numorum' and Hill's 'Handbook of Greek and Roman Coins' are perhaps best.
Macdonald's 'Coin Types' is readable. Hazlitt's
'Coinage of the European Continent' contains much information. Rawlings' 'Coins and How to Know Them' is popular, but answers the needs of many inquirers.
Monographs on the separate countries are available, but they are usually in languages which would prohibit their use by most of your inquirers.

If this information is of value to you I shall be very glad.

Very truly yours,

Secretary
